

9 You've got a friend

9 Review

9 a Vocabulary (p. 145)

|               | antonym                         | noun                     |
|---------------|---------------------------------|--------------------------|
| 0 trustworthy | untrustworthy                   | trustworthiness          |
| 1 reliable    | unreliable                      | reliability              |
| 2 humorous    | serious                         | humour                   |
| 3 adventurous | unadventurous                   | adventurousness          |
| 4 spontaneous | unspontaneous / organised       | spontaneity              |
| 5 motivating  | demotivating                    | motivation               |
| 6 loyal       | disloyal                        | loyalty                  |
| 7 ambitious   | unambitious                     | ambition / ambitiousness |
| 8 confident   | unconfident / insecure / unsure | confidence               |
| 9 helpful     | unhelpful                       | helpfulness              |
| 10 patient    | impatient                       | patience                 |
| 11 forgiving  | unforgiving / resentful         | forgiveness              |

9 b Language in use (p. 146)

- |                            |                |                     |
|----------------------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 1 get on well              | 3 let Tim down | 5 had to look after |
| 2 have been going out with | 4 splitting up |                     |

9 c Vocabulary (p. 146)

- |                      |              |                     |
|----------------------|--------------|---------------------|
| 1 quality friends    | 5 count on   | 8 through the grief |
| 2 surround           | 6 wavelength |                     |
| 3 by your side       | 7 for life   |                     |
| 4 good and bad times |              |                     |